OPPORTUNITIES TO SERVE

Seeking Volunteer Officials

AMOCO differs from other financial institutions in that members of the credit union are also the owners. The member/owners govern the credit union via a volunteer Board of Directors, elected by and from the credit union's membership. In addition, the Board of Directors appoints fellow members from the credit union to serve on the Supervisory and Governance Committees. Combined, these volunteers ensure that the members' assets are safeguarded and that management adheres to laws, regulations, policies, and procedures.

Seeking Nominations for Volunteers

We are currently accepting applications for volunteer positions. If you are interested in serving on the credit union's Board of Directors, Supervisory Committee, or any other Special Committees as needed, please submit your volunteer application by clicking on the Submit Your Application button below. General applications will be accepted through September 12, 2023.

Members may also seek a nomination for a Board of Directors position through the petition process established by AMOCO's bylaws. This process requires a petition to be signed by 500 members to be considered for a Board position. Applications for nomination by petition will be accepted through December 6, 2023. From the nominations received, the Nominating Committee will select a slate of candidates for ballot and election by the membership.

General Qualifications

All Volunteer Officials must be AMOCO members in good standing. They should not have been convicted of any criminal offense involving dishonesty. Volunteer Officials must be unselfish, willing to act for the benefit of the members, and sincerely interested in helping members resolve their financial problems as permissible through services offered by the credit union.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the organizational structure of the credit union?

The Board of Directors consists of volunteer members of AMOCO. Each director is elected for a three-year term, and terms are staggered. The credit union is managed by a professional staff of credit union personnel, including a President/CEO, who reports directly to the board.

Are there any committees of the board?

Yes, committees include the executive committee (comprised of the chair, vice chair, secretary, and treasurer) and the personnel committee (comprised of the past chair, the current chair and the incoming chair).

What is the financial condition of the credit union?

AMOCO Federal Credit Union is a not-for-profit cooperative financial institution organized under the Federal Credit Union Act and is an organization described by, and exempt from taxation under, Sections 501(c)(1) and 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, respectfully. The annual income of the credit union was $9.5 million, with total assets of $1.3 billion as of December 31, 2022. The credit union's financial statements are audited by its federal regulator, the National Credit Union Association (NCUA), as well as a public accounting firm on an annual basis.

Where are board meetings held?

Meetings of the Board of Directors are held monthly at the Training & Corporate Office located in Texas City, TX.

Does the credit union reimburse directors for travel expenses?

Yes.

Are there other meetings held in addition to the regular board meetings?

Yes, there are three additional meetings that directors are required to attend, including Legal/Regulatory/Compliance Review, Volunteer Training, and Strategic Planning.
